Additional Information

Thank you for contributing to such a wonderful week back to school. Our students got back to work right away! We had the pleasure of hosting Jon Rever, Deputy Superintendent of Schools, this past week. He participated in announcing our student 'Writers of the Week', he listened to them read their writing pieces and then he moved onto visiting classes. Mr. Rever wrapped up his visit with a round table discussion with our teachers about how the 'Writing Continuum' has impacted student learning, self- assessment and informed their next steps in instruction. Mr. Rever was very complimentary on the level of learning and engagement our students and educators demonstrated. This was truly a proud moment for us!
